

Dina Lieser, M.D.

Dr. Dina Lieser is the Executive Director of Docs For Tots. A graduate of NYU School of Medicine and the New York Presbyterian, Cornell Hospital Residency Program Dina continues to practice medicine as an attending pediatrician for New York Hospital Queens. She is an Assistant Professor of Pediatrics at Weil Cornell Medical Center and serves on numerous advisory boards and committees, including Chairman of the Youth Advocacy Committee for the Queens Pediatric Society, American Academy of Pediatrics Child Care Contact, member of the Policy Committee and Board of Directors for New York Zero to Three, and is on the Graduate Medical Education Committee for New York Hospital Queens. She serves on the Advisory Board to the New York Children's Cabinet. She was previously the Director of the Pediatric Unit and of Resident Education for the Cornell Program at New York Hospital Queens.

Dr. Lieser has a longstanding commitment to child advocacy and a great passion for ensuring that the mission of Docs For Tots is realized and that the organization continues making great strides for our youngest children. She is the proud mother of two boys Jordan and Jacob who continue to teach her daily about the beauty of early childhood.